PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

feathermode   Jan 2019 - Present
Founder & Full-Stack Engineer

- Build high-quality, individualized, and efficient websites and web apps through a five-step process of detail, design, development, deployment and dedication
- Created a custom CSS utilities library to generate styles for websites, and a Static Site Generator, Gondola, that uses JavaScript templating and Bun to create websites
- Built an experimental Content Management System, SkyDash, that uses HTML data attributes to trigger visual representations and editing options on the user's website when they are logged in
- Work collaboratively with clients to create branding, iconography, naming and design systems to establish a concrete digital presence
- Create Lo-Fi and Hi-Fi Mockups of websites in Figma and on paper
- Present to, and communicate effectively with, both prospective and current clients to showcase the scope, vision, and progress for a project from an initial consultation through project deployment
- Construct custom websites using the 11ty SSG with Nunjucks templating
- Engage with the Stripe API to create custom storefronts and checkout processes
- Employ Zapier integrations to create and connect clients' email automation software, social media sites, CRM software and other content streaming services
- Publish sites using Netlify or Vercel and maintain hosting including analytics and CMS software, social media trackers, and SEO audits from SemRush averaging 92% site health
- Ensure SEO best practices, website accessibility and 90% and above lighthouse scores for each website and web app

Equinox, Crunch, Sattaur Fitness   Sep 2013 - Present
Personal Trainer

- Train clients in functional strength, corrective exercise and boxing
- Effectively teach and motivate clients with little to no experience
- Breakdown complex programming into digestible and attainable goals to allow for a steady rate of progression and success
- Maintain a professional and friendly relationship with all clients
- Provide a fun, engaging and stimulating environment to promote a positive relationship with fitness
